

Paper Title

Abstract

This is where the abstract goes. The maximum length allowed is 100 words. This rule is applied to resubmissions as well. It is fine for the abstract to be single-spaced. Note that this page contains the paper's title and abstract, but does not contain author names or acknowledgments. The main text should begin on the next page.

This is the first page of the paper. It must be double-spaced with 28 lines or fewer per page. The font size must be size 11 or larger. Help preserve the vision of your referee(s) and editor by using easy-to-read font and double-spacing.

Notice how this file and the sample cover page follow the guidelines. For example, the first page of this file has the paper's title at the top, followed by the abstract. This helps reviewers keep track of the papers if they print them out. Please note you do not need to mimic these files exactly.

Please make sure that you remove all identifying information from the paper. If you've included an online appendix in this file, make sure it is clearly labeled and that you have removed the author names from it. You may also choose to upload an online appendix as a separate file. You should still remove the author names if it is a separate file. Online appendices are optional.

We thank you for considering the Review as an outlet for your work. We wish you well with the editorial process and we hope that no matter the outcome, you believe that you were treated with consideration and respect.
